

the power of working together

Ask Anthony Conard. The partnership Urban League formed with Madison Gas and Electric (MGE) brought him into the career he had always been looking for - “a chance to use my head and hands and to work outdoors.” As an MGE lineman, Anthony has a job that makes him responsible for the energy in our community.

Partnerships help to create a better community. Urban League of Greater Madison works closely with area employers to build and diversify our workforce. They strive to improve the social and economic conditions of African Americans, other people of color, and the economically disadvantaged.

Working together we all can make a difference.
